Economic Development according to new rural Program at Thach That district, Hanoi city

Nguyen Duc Manh

Major: Economic Management
Publishing year: 2013
Supervisor: Assoc.Prof.Dr Ngo Quang Minh

Research purposes:

- Research purposes:

  Based on criterion and content of the new Rural Program, researching and analyzing the status of economic development according to new Rural Program at Thach That district, the author proposed some effective directions and solutions.

- The main tasks:

  - Clearing up theory base and reality of economic development process to the new rural Program.

  - Researching and analyzing the status of rural economic development at Thach That district, Hanoi city.

  - Proposing some effective directions and solutions of economic development based on criterion of new Rural Program.

  To do these tasks, the thesis concentrated on the researching question: with the current status, what do Thach That needs to promote the economic development to the new Rural Program?

New contributions:

- Systematizing, analyzing and improving more theory base on economic development process to the new rural Program in terms of economic management.

- Summarizing experiences of economic development to the new rural Program at some localities and learning their lessons to Thach That district.

- Assessing the results as well as limited points and causes of these, the remaining problems after 3 years of deploying economic development to the new Rural Program at Thach That district.

- Exposing forecast, orientations and targets of development and 6 groups of particular and highe feasible solutions for Thach That district to continue to develop economic to the new rural Program in the period of 2013 - 2020.